Part VII – Research Activities

Brief Description

Egypt and North Africa: demographic transition. This research focuses on demography of the Mediterranean countries with special attention to the demographic transition in Egypt and in Northern African countries. In particular, the most recent researches on this topic deal with a) population policies in Egypt, Tunisia and Iran (with Zahia Ouhadah Bedidi, Université Paris 7 and INED, France) b) the geography of fertility transition in Egypt (together with Yoann Doignon, CNRS, France) c) ideal family size among men and women in Egypt (together with Aurora Angeli and Marco Novelli, Bologna University).

International migration and integration. This research focuses on international migration, with special attention to migrants' integration, refugees' integration, migration policies and their effectiveness, migration and environment, immigrants well-being, perceptions of immigrants, social media and migration, sexual and reproductive health of female migrants, unaccompanied minors, Italian emigration. The research focuses on the Euro Mediterranean area with special attention to Italy. Several national and international collaborations were established over a 15 years' period for common projects, conferences and publications (e.g. with D. Bertel, M. Carammia, E. Cela, H. Dietrich, Livia E. Ortensi, S. Miccoli, L. Morales, E. Mussino, A. Paparusso, S. Shubin, C. Wihtol de Wenden)

Social Policies also in relation with COVID-19. This research strand focuses on a) the evolution and the impact of social policies in the European countries (Research in collaboration with J. F. May George Mason University US), b) self-perceived social exclusion during the COVID-19 pandemic (Research in collaboration with M. Zannella, J.R. Edwards SINUS Germany), c) Survey on the impact of the pandemic on health and social workers conducted in collaboration with the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore-Fondazione Policlinico Gemelli (with M. Fantoni Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, G. Alleva, A. De Rose e M. Zannella)
